REPORT:

Held on April 23-24 at the USC's University Park Campus in Los Angeles, reviews were mostly positive throughout the 2-day event. Many attendees praised your book which was displayed in a prime spot throughout the whole event. Our sales team made sure that they were able to market your book effectively, all inquiries were addressed and flyers and bookmarks were handed out to attendees. Our booth was teeming with people on both days giving your book a very good exposure not only to buyers from all throughout the country, Canada and internationally.

We have provided them your Amazon/Website links together with your email address if they need further information about you and your book. Please take note that we are not allowed to provide anyone with our authors' phone numbers as it is against our company policy for security reasons. The authors can, however, provide these themselves after the event upon further direct communication from the interested parties when needed, but will not be given through Book Vine Press and its representatives.
